At AMASA's February forum, tech guru and radio personality Aki Anastasiou shared the latest insights and trends in technology and gadgets from his trip to the CES 2014 in Las Vegas earlier this year. As a follow up discussion, this week Wednesday, 5 March, AMASA asks 'What's next?'

Aki's energetic and insightful presentation left us wondering, what's next? How does this affect us? How will this change the way we work and how will this impact us as the media, as agencies, media owners and brands?

Speakers include Angus Robinson from Native, Wayne Bishop from media agency PHD, Gary Manoim, Digital Marketing & Media Head for Retail Banking Marketing at FNB.

Join us as we ask pertinent questions and examine the immediate impact tech innovation will bring to our industry.
