

Jewish Literary Festival 2018 to celebrate words, literature

The Jewish Literary Festival 2018 programme is set to explore an assortment of literary insights and commentaries that impact Jewish culture and history. It will also provide storytelling for the younger sector of the audience.

Entrepreneur Howard Feldman will present a discussion on the 'Fear of saying the wrong thing: writing and living in a post-humour society'.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>