

New account awarded to Mango-OMC

MANGO-OMC has been appointed as the communications partner for the locally produced, fully orchestrated rock musical Rockville 2069 premiering on 29 August 2014 at Artscape Opera House in Cape Town.

Featuring a cast of 26 with lead singer Joseph Clark (of Queen at the Opera) and a seven-piece rock band with the Cape Philharmonic Orchestra, Rockville 2069 combines artists and musicians from different cultural and musical backgrounds to bring a new, sometimes discordant, always thrilling voice to the rock musical scene. With fast moving scene changes, the use of 3D animation and a 100m2 LED screen, technology plays a key role in creating this believable, constantly shifting production.
