

NAAMSA president elected

Mike Whitfield has been elected president of the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers of South Africa (NAAMSA) for 2016. NAAMSA is the official body representing the interests of new vehicle manufacturers, importers and distributors in South Africa. Whitfield has 35 years' industry experience with Nissan South Africa where he currently serves as managing director.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>