

Randgo appoints new leadership to boost market position in South Africa

Randgo, a South African rewards program company, has appointed new leadership to bolster its position as a leading provider in the country. Kinola Pather, the new CEO, prioritises enhancing member and employee financial well-being through effective rewards programs. Juandri Kotze, as COO, concentrates on operational excellence and digital transformation. Yas Mahomed, the key accounts manager, focuses on client satisfaction and loyalty program expertise. With this strengthened leadership team, Randgo aims to cement its market standing.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>