

Call for submissions to Bizcommunity reference library

Bizcommunity.com is building a reference library related to all aspects of marketing in South Africa. If you have any reference works, valuable research papers, or generic presentations that are relevant to South Africa's marketing community and you would like them hosted on www.bizcommunity.com, please feel free to send them to us.

Our fledgling service is available at the bottom of the left hand navigation bar and currently contains two valuable, but lonely, reference works. OMD and RadMark are dying for company.

Ad agencies, media owners, research house, university media and related faculties – you're all welcome.
